

2013 Mathematical Contest in Modeling® Press Release—April 5, 2013

COMAP is pleased to announce the results of the 29th annual Mathematical Contest in Modeling (MCM). This year, 5636 teams representing institutions from fourteen countries participated in the contest. Eleven teams from the following institutions were designated as OUTSTANDING WINNERS:

Beijing Univ. of Posts and Telecomm, China
Bethel University, Arden Hills, MN
Colorado College, Colorado Springs, CO
Fudan University, China
Nanjing University, China
Peking University, China
Shandong University, China
Shanghai Jiaotong University, China
Tsinghua University, China
University of Colorado Boulder, Boulder, CO (2)

This year's contest ran from Thursday, January 31 to Monday, February 4, 2013. During that time, teams of up to three undergraduate or high school students researched, modeled, and submitted a solution to one of two modeling problems. The 2013 MCM was primarily an online contest. Teams registered, obtained contest materials, and downloaded the problem and data at the prescribed time through COMAP's MCM Website.

This year the two MCM problems represented significant challenges. The author of the A problem is Veena Mendiratta. The problem was "The Ultimate Brownie Pan".

When baking in a rectangular pan heat is concentrated in the 4 corners and the product gets overcooked at the corners (and to a lesser extent at the edges). In a round pan the heat is distributed evenly over the entire outer edge and the product is not overcooked at the edges. However, since most ovens are rectangular in shape using round pans is not efficient with respect to using the space in an oven. Develop a model to show the distribution of heat across the outer edge of a pan for pans of different shapes - rectangular to circular and other shapes in between.

Assume

1. A width to length ratio of W/L for the oven which is rectangular in shape.
2. Each pan must have an area of A .
3. Initially two racks in the oven, evenly spaced.

Develop a model that can be used to select the best type of pan (shape) under the following conditions:

1. Maximize number of pans that can fit in the oven (N)

2. Maximize even distribution of heat (H) for the pan
3. Optimize a combination of conditions (1) and (2) where weights p and $(1-p)$ are assigned to illustrate how the results vary with different values of W/L and p .

In addition to your MCM formatted solution, prepare a one to two page advertising sheet for the new Brownie Gourmet Magazine highlighting your design and results.

The B problem was authored by Professor Dave Olwell, entitled "Water, Water, Everywhere". Fresh water is the limiting constraint for development in much of the world. Build a mathematical model for determining an effective, feasible, and cost-efficient water strategy for 2013 to meet the projected water needs of [pick one country from the list below] in 2025, and identify the best water strategy. In particular, your mathematical model must address storage and movement; de-salinization; and conservation. If possible, use your model to discuss the economic, physical, and environmental implications of your strategy. Provide a non-technical position paper to governmental leadership outlining your approach, its feasibility and costs, and why it is the "best water strategy choice." Countries: United States, China, Russia, Egypt, or Saudi Arabia

The eleven Outstanding solution papers will be featured in The UMAP Journal, along with commentary from the authors and other judges. All 5636 of the competing teams are to be congratulated for their excellent work and enthusiasm for mathematical modeling and interdisciplinary problem solving.

Major funding for the MCM is provided by COMAP. Additional support is provided by the Institute for Operations Research and the Management Sciences (INFORMS) and Two Sigma Investments. COMAP's Mathematical Contest in Modeling and Interdisciplinary Contest in Modeling are unique among modeling competitions in that they are the only international contests in which students work in teams to find a solution. Centering its educational philosophy on mathematical modeling, COMAP uses mathematical tools to explore real-world problems. It serves the educational community as well as the world of work by preparing students to become better informed—and prepared—citizens, consumers, and workers.
